ITALIAN VOTERS JAM HALL TO HEAR POLITICAL SPEECHES

Issues of the Campaign Are Discussed in English and Italian

SHOW MUCH INTEREST

Senator Buckman Receives Rousing Reception At Meeting

Speakers addressing a large audience in St. Ann's hall, Logan street, last night, discussed the issues of the present campaign in both the Italian and English languages. Four of those delivering addresses spoke in Italian while three others used the English language to convey their messages to the people.

The hall was filled to capacity, every available seat being occupied and eager listeners crowded upon the stairways and in the vestibules.

The meeting was marked by the attentiveness on the part of the audience, which was comprised of both men and women numbering close to 400.

State Senator Clarence J. Buckman was the first speaker introduced by Gaetano Greco, chairman of the meeting. Senator Buckman, who is a candidate to succeed himself, reviewed his 24 years of service in the state legislature. As he arose to speak the audience likewise arose to its feet and with vigorous applause greeted Mr. Buckman.

"You have always supported me and I have always supported you and I am going to support you again as you are going to support me and send me back to Harrisburg."

"It is a good thing to have two parties as it makes for efficiency," said the Senator. "Eighteen months ago things were unsettled and in a chaotic state. People wanted a change and they elected a Democratic president. But what have the Democrats done for you?"

"Is food any cheaper?"

"It is not."

"Is food going up or coming down?"

"Are you paying more or less for shirts and shoes for your children?"

"The Democrats have failed to keep a single one of their promises. Their platform has been nothing but a 'scrap of paper.'"

Then Senator Buckman told of the long Republican history in Pennsylvania, and in Bucks County, and in Bristol.

"What has the new deal done for you?" he asked.

Taking a fling at the manner in which the Federal Government has dealt relief money out to Pennsylvania, Senator Buckman also took the Democratic candidates to task for their refusal to attend a conference called by Governor Pinchot for the purpose of having an agreement reached upon the appropriation of relief funds.

"But the Democrats failing to attend this conference made it necessary for Pennsylvania to hold a special session of the legislature."

Paul Barrett, Bristol, representing the Young Republican Committee, made his debut as a political orator. Mr. Barrett very clearly and concisely drew an analogous picture of the prohibition law and the National Industrial Recovery Act or more commonly called NRA. The speaker drew the parallel that as prohibition ratified in 1920 was abolished in 1933, because it did not meet with popular favor, being repulsive and objectionable to the people because of its dictatorial nature telling them they "should not," so would NRA fail because it also tells the people what "they shall" and "shall not" do or regiments them into functioning machine fashion.

Thomas B. Stockham, candidate for the general assembly, told of his experiences as the executive head of the borough of Morrisville for 12 years and compared the smaller political unit with the larger one, as represented by the state.

Those who addressed the meeting in Italian were Dr. Enrico D'Alonzo, Giuseppe Scutti, Philadelphia; Dr. Salvatore Paolini, Doctor of Laws of the Royal University of Rome, and Andrew Accardi, Bristol.

QUARANTINE LAWS SAID TO BE FAILURE

Physicians and Health Guardians Discuss Subject at Big Meeting

DR. CAMPBELL SPEAKS

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 27.—Nearly 65 physicians, nurses and health workers, members of the Bucks County Public Health Association, held a meeting in the Grand Jury Room in the Court House, Thursday afternoon, and went on record in favor of a new deal for quarantines.

The meeting, which was brought about by Miss Laura C. Haines, president of the association, was attended by representatives of the Red Cross, Bucks county schools, Bucks County Medical Association, a State health officer, and the field secretary of the Bucks County Tuberculosis Society.

Miss Haines, who opened the meeting presented Dr. J. Fred Wagner, of Bristol, who presided and introduced the various speakers.

A County Seat physician, Dr. Allen H. Moore, vigorously attacked the present methods of quarantine and proposed a "quarantine experiment."

"Present quarantine laws are an absolute failure," he said, "particularly in the case of whooping cough. By the time a child is 'whooping' the disease is pretty well advanced and quarantine doesn't amount to very much," Dr. Moore said.

"What are you going to do when a child goes to school, coughing all the time, and infecting everyone he comes in contact with in the class room or on the playground, simply because some physician does not understand whooping cough and refuses to subject the child to a quarantine until it does whoop, or because the child has not been taken to a physician?"

According to Dr. Moore's experiment, which has been approved by the State Board of Health, including Dr. Appel, as soon as a child begins to cough the teacher or parent should place a red band on the child's left arm. This red band would be a symbol of a cough, and would be a warning for such children to be kept out of school, churches, movies and other public gatherings.

With the permission of the local board of health and Dr. Appel, this plan may be carried out in Doylestown. However, Dr. Moore said: "The thing we must think about is who will 'bell the cat'?" He pointed out that a teacher, physician or layman does not have that right, only the parent, when it comes down to the final analysis.

But to overcome this obstacle on the part of stubborn and unwilling parents, Dr. Moore emphasized the fact that a child attending school, coughing seriously, may be banned by the school nurse. The problem of handling

Girl Thrown From Highway When Struck by Automobile

Struck by an automobile last night at about 10.30, Miss Mary Wilhelm, 21, of Andalusia, was hurled from the highway at Andalusia. She is a patient in Harriman Hospital, suffering from lacerations of the left side of the skull, and the right side of the forehead and right ear; abrasions and contusions of both knees, and shock.

The young woman, who is employed in a store in the Philadelphia area, had ridden to Torresdale on a trolley, and commenced walking toward her home. She is said to have been on the right side of the highway, when she was struck by a coupe operated by Walter Pastor, 3600 Hartel street, Philadelphia.

WHAT VOTERS SHOULD KNOW

If the Democratic candidate for State Senator from Bucks County should by any possibility be elected, he could be of no real service to his constituents. Why?

The Senate of Pennsylvania is composed of fifty members, now composed of forty-three Republicans and seven Democrats. Only half of the entire membership of the Senate, or twenty-five, are elected this year. Of the twenty-five Senators who are not up for re-election this year, twenty-two are Republicans and three are Democrats, so in order for the Democrats to have a majority in the next Senate, they would have to elect twenty-three out of the twenty-five,—an utter impossibility.

The next Senate will be Republican and if the Democratic candidate is elected, he would have no influence.

Whether in Congress or in the State Legislature, a novice in the Legislative Halls can accomplish little no matter how splendid his intent. A Senator's prestige and influence result not only from the ability he brings to that office, but likewise, and probably to as great an extent, from his seniority acquired through long and continuous service. This has been demonstrated in the case of Senator Buckman. His value to the people of Bucks county has increased, term by term, and certainly he is a far greater asset to his constituents today than he was when he entered the legislative chambers of the State years ago, a stranger, inexperienced, and with all his prestige still before him.

Senator Buckman, therefore, should be retained in the State Senate just as long as he will continue to serve, in order that the people of Bucks county may get the fullest returns from his ability, his energy, his understanding of all legislative problems, and of the important routine by which necessary legislation is guided to final enactment.

He is today one of the most influential members of the Senate, and some of the best service that he has rendered to his constituents has been in the form of mastery work in the various committees.

Committee Memberships is an index to a Senator's influence and standing. Senator Buckman is now Chairman of the Corporations Committee, and is ranking member of the following committees:—

Agriculture	Judiciary General
Appropriations	Judiciary Special
Finance	Pensions and Gratuities
Game and Fisheries	Public Roads and Highways
Insurance

SELLERSVILLE WILL DEDICATE WATER SYSTEM

State and Borough Officials To Speak at Affair Today

A FINE IMPROVEMENT

SELLERSVILLE, Oct. 27.—Residents here will see "what lies behind the faucet" when the borough water plant, recently improved at a cost of $51,000 and made the most modern plant of its size in the country, is dedicated, this afternoon.

Prominent state officials will be present to give talks, as well as borough officials, and the burgesses and councilmen of all the boroughs in the North Penn section have been invited to participate in the exercises.

The dedication will mark the end of six months of work by the borough in which all possible danger of contamination of the water supply has been eliminated.

The old catch basin, on which the borough depends for most of its water supply, has been enlarged from its former capacity of 6,000,000 gallons to 16,000,000.

Water that collected in this basin was formerly chlorinated and then pumped directly into the mains. Criticism of this system resulted in the construction of a filter bed to supplement the work of the chlorinator, when the reservoir was enlarged.

The new filter bed is entirely automatic in its action, and requires the attention of only one man, for eight hours a day. His work is largely a matter of clearing the bed, and the rest of the plant operation takes care of itself, to a great extent. The automatic features rate it with the most modern to be found anywhere.

William F. Stevenson, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Department of Health, and Major William F. Gravell, first engineer of the Public Works Administration, will be the leading speakers of the dedicatory exercises, which will be held at the plant, starting at 2 o'clock.

NEWTOWN METHODISTS TO BURN MORTGAGE

Anniversary of Founding 114 Years Ago To Be Celebrated Tomorrow

DR. RIDOUT TO SPEAK

NEWTOWN, Oct. 27.—Tomorrow will be observed as Anniversary Day in the Methodist church here, and services have been planned to commemorate the work of the years.

At the hour of morning worship, the mortgage on the Old Church will be burned. It will be lighted by the one who has been a member for the greatest number of years. Dr. G. W. Ridout will be the speaker for both morning and evening services.

He is a former professor of the pastor, and is well read in Methodist history. He is a leader in the field of devotional literature, and has written several books. He and his wife have recently returned from a missionary trip around the world, where they were met with marked success, wherever they went. Special music has also been planned, with the choir singing at the morning hour, and in the evening service at 7.30, Mrs. Riddle and Miss Laura Riddle will sing a duet. An invitation has also been extended to Rev. and Mrs. T. Norton Hyde to be present for the day. It is also known that some former members will return.

American Methodism this year celebrates the 150th anniversary of its organization. The Methodist Societies became the Methodist Church in December, 1784, in the city of Baltimore. Just when the first Methodist service was held in Newtown is not known. It is known, however, from certain records that Newtown Methodism goes back over a hundred years. An old obituary notice written at the time of the Civil War states that "Mrs. Ann Williams was transferred to St. George's M. E. Church in Philadelphia, where she remained until her marriage in 1829. She then removed to Newtown. Upon her arrival in Newtown, she immediately joined with the M. E. Church, under the ministrations of the Rev. Manning Force." Then too, a daughter of the Ellinger family was buried in the Old Cemetery in 1831. And in 1840 there is a record of 34 members, a Sunday School was in operation, and regular services in the church. According to the old obituary notice, there was a Methodist society in Newtown 114 years ago.

In 1846 the Old Church was built. It was in use until 1897, when the present building was erected. During this time the Newtown church was associated with other churches on the Doylestown Circuit. It was in 1875 that Newtown became an independent station with a full time pastor devoted to the work.

The work grew through the faithful work of many men. In the year 1897, it became necessary to build the present church, which after 27 years is almost like new. To this has been added in the past year a new pipe organ, a new lighting system, and the auditorium has been renovated. Newtown Methodism has a justifiable pride in the blessings and in the achievements of the years.

CITIZENSHIP AND LEGISLATION ARE TOPICS OF WOMEN

Dr. Walter H. Mohr and Mrs. S. Blair Luckie Speak On Respective Subjects

AT CO. FEDERATION

Newtown New Century Club Is Hostess Throughout The Day

By Staff Correspondent

NEWTOWN, Oct. 27.—Two hundred and twenty-three women, representative of all communities in Bucks County, came to Newtown yesterday for the purpose of participating in the Fall meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Women's Clubs, and likewise assisted in Newtown borough's final commemorative gesture in observing 250 years since its founding.

From 14 women's clubs they assembled, to enjoy under the leadership of president, Mrs. Charles W. Swan, Perkins, and her committee a meritorious program during the two sessions of the day. Both men and women were listed on the program, and all did justice to their assigned or chosen subjects. Musicians added to the day's enjoyment, business was transacted with dispatch, and a charming playlet provided an amusing climax.

J. Wilmer Landy, as chairman, represented Newtown's anniversary committee, extending greetings; Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, former state chairman of legislation, represented the state body; and Mr. Walter H. Mohr, chairman of the history department of George School, was the main speaker provided for the afternoon.

Commencing promptly at 10 a. m., with the stormy weather not in the least hampering the attendance, the meeting was well directed by Mrs. Swan. The county song was the opening number, followed by the invocation by the Rev. Jacob Avery Long, pastor of Newtown, Presbyterian Church; salute to the flag and address of welcome by Mrs. Reinhold J. Kester, president of the Newtown New Century Club, which organization served as hostess throughout the day.

Mr. Landy's greeting had a wealth of warmth. "We couldn't finish our anniversary year with a better or more worthwhile organization participating than yours," he told the women. "The subject of the day, 'American Citizenship and Legislation' shows your deep interest in worthwhile things." In her reply the county federation president remarked that in these days of advancement and improvement it was most fitting that the group come to a New town to be guest of a New Century Club at the opening of a New Year.

A portion of the initial meeting was occupied with business and announcements. Mrs. Swan informed of the winners of the League of Nations contest conducted by the Federation, these being: 1st, Gladys Brinker, sponsored by the Woman's Club of Perkins; 2nd, Margaret Paul, sponsored by Langhorne Sorosis; and honorable mention, Frances E. Benner, also sponsored by Sorosis.

The members were informed a strong box had been provided in which to keep Federation records, the Doylestown Historical Society providing space for such in their building. The Federation decided to purchase a new county banner, to be fashioned in the county colors of green and white. Committee appointed to revise the by-laws included: Mrs. Ferdinand Sommer, of Quakertown, parliamentarian, as chairman; Mrs. William C. Ryan, Doylestown; Mrs. Horace H. Burton, Bristol. A favorable vote was received on the matter of sponsoring a trip to Washington next Spring. Two new chairmen were appointed by the presiding officer, chairman of "Pennsylvania Clubwoman" committee, Mrs. C. Boyer; county chairman of juniors, Mrs. Arthur E. Hagar, Langhorne. Secretary's report was given by Mrs. Hugh D. Graham; and the report of the treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Moyer, Jr., was read by Mrs. Robert G. Grim, Perkins.

In her vivid outline of the convention of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women held at Harrisburg, Mrs. Swan told of the events of the several days. She mentioned that over 38 Bucks County women attended some of the functions, with 29 being present at the banquet. After bringing

RAILROAD HISTORY

Railroad history was made when a Union Pacific streamline diesel-powered train pulled into New York City two and one-third days after leaving Los Angeles.

Railroading is entering upon a new era which may prove the most prosperous in the history of this form of travel. Charges that the railroads were laggard in adopting modern methods to combat new and faster competition are bearing fruit in the appearance of a new tempo in the offices of the big roads.

The Union Pacific train, which now holds all transcontinental records for speed, is constructed of aluminum and has a gross weight of four tons per passenger, as contrasted to 160 tons per passenger gross weight of the old trains. This is making progress with a vengeance. Its electric motors, using current made by a 900-horsepower diesel engine, cut fuel costs to a fraction of those run up by a bulky, smoky, slow coal-burning locomotive.

Will the day come when transcontinental rail pilots will watch streamlined trains pulling away from them? This is a possibility, though it may now seem remote. The train which has just covered the distance from Los Angeles to New York in little more than two days, attained a speed of 120 miles an hour in Nebraska. Such speed would be possible on the entire coast-to-coast run were the tracks straight, the grades easy.

THE LAW STRIKES AGAIN

South and Western desperadoes of bad old days, Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd and Alvin Karpis, were two that authorities wanted the most. Today, Floyd is dead and Karpis, his lieutenant, is in an Ohio pen.

At the top of the heap of their crime was the mass slaying of five men at the Union station in Chicago. They were the first of their gang who were sent to prison in the United States.

Two weeks ago, nearly 18 months after the slaying, federal authorities at Kansas City definitely pinned the crime on Floyd and Karpis, along with several others who are either dead or in prison. The sudden capture follows in Floyd's death and Karpis' capture, and another of the great crimes of the decade is solved.

Floyd and Karpis' gang is broken, Dillinger is dead and the last of his original gang, Pierpont, was executed in Ohio last week, the strands of the law gather in about Hauptmann in New Jersey—all the results of the unrelenting hunt of federal agents.

ing the child of the non-school age was not adequately settled. "If the public does not want to cooperate with us in this matter, we must throw away the quarantine laws. The sooner we take the quarantine laws out of the hands of the doctors, the sooner we will have perfect quarantine laws," Dr. Moore said.

Representing the Doylestown Red Cross, which has done an excellent phase of health work in central Bucks county, Miss Elizabeth Ross explained that the Red Cross looks after the health of children in ten townships and three boroughs. In the past eight or ten years, more than 1500 children have been given toxine to prevent diphtheria. She explained the work of the Red Cross Rural Dental Clinic and stressed the fact that it is almost impossible to get rural healthy people to visit a physician as a preventive measure.

Dr. Frank Lehman, of Bristol, chairman of the Bucks County Medical Society, spoke briefly on the lack of appropriations at the present time to carry on the toxin-antitoxin campaign against diphtheria. Last year, however, 1200 school children in Bristol were immunized. When a child reaches the age of one year, he should be immunized against this dreaded disease. He made a plea that health work in Bucks county be co-ordinated, and was gratified to see many health workers and representatives from all parts of the county coming together and ironing out their problems.

Stressing the value of health in the rural schools, County Superintendent J. Harry Hoffman struck a bright note when he quoted Miss Thelma B. Winger, Doylestown school nurse, who recently made the statement that "the rural children coming into the County seat school this year have better teeth and health habits than in any previous year."

Every school room in Bucks county has its health chart, and the teachers are carrying out the health work as best they can. Because of the lack of financial support, given by the Red Cross, out of fifty school districts only one-third of the children will undergo physical examinations. Another problem confronting the rural teacher doing health work is weighing the children.

Admitting the failure of the quarantine laws, Dr. J. Moore Campbell, of the State Health Department, of Pa., the guest speaker, said: "It is my firm conviction that we are kidding ourselves when we think we are controlling a disease by quarantine laws. There is no control. It must burn itself out."

"There isn't a soul who hasn't been in health work for six months, let alone 15 or 20 years, who will not admit the failure of the quarantine laws. There is only one way to combat a disease; that is by immunization actively against minor contagious diseases. The first two or three days of whooping cough are the most contagious; the same holds true for measles. You are 'locking the door after the horse is stolen' every time you quarantine a case of whooping cough, measles and other mild diseases."

The control of measles Dr. Campbell said, is eighty per cent up to the parents and 20 per cent to health officers. He congratulated Miss Ross and the "follow-up work" done by the Red Cross rural nurse. "If defects in health work are not followed up it is just an empty gesture. The work to be effective must be persistently done."

The toxin-antitoxin program should be in the hands of physicians. "Every physician ought to see to it that each new-born child is immunized at the end of six months against diphtheria. On the theory why wait until a youngster goes to school to vaccinate when it is perfectly proper to do it at the age of three years, infant fatalities in diphtheria can almost be prevented if the child is immunized young enough."

In closing, Dr. Campbell expressed a wish that some one will soon assume the position of County Medical Director in Bucks county. He paid a tribute to Dr. C. W. Many, who died in August.

Declaring that if every Bucks county family were to contribute the work could be carried on, Mrs. Emma P. Stover, field secretary of the Bucks County Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, explained the amount of work done by the association depends on the number of Christmas seals sold. Health programs are being arranged for Thanksgiving Day in the various schools. A bangle day and poster campaign is also planned.

Announcement was made of a round-table conference to be held on November 6, when dentists and druggists will be asked to join the association. Dr. Moore wished the association to go on record favoring the idea that it is proper and ethical for a physician to ask a child to report at his office for a toxin treatment.

Guests included H. A. Fritchman, of Oakmont, and J. C. Stauffer, Montgomery county health officer.

Citizenship and Legislation

home many of the suggestions and challenges secured at the convention, she ended by saying to her workers "I hope we may all rise up and build."

Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, who is honorary vice-president of the State Federation, and who for 11 years served as chairman of legislation of the state body, informed that legislation touches every department of work in the federation. "When you work with legislation, you can't go to sleep," she warned. "For in connection with legislation you are working with people. Activities of the state body in seeking regulation of billboards, birth control amendment, and deferred marriage laws, were brought up by this great-grandmother who is filled with energy and enthusiasm. Then in bringing up the matter of great amounts of legislation that are causing untold taxes she said her great-grandson will have to help pay for the problems the world is facing today. "And they are serious problems. We must equip ourselves to bear the strain." She asked that the women be open-minded. "The state federation has grown until it is now the largest and most powerful, and we can only keep our leadership if we keep an open mind on the problems of the day."

Report of the scholarship fund was given by Mrs. A. A. Danner, Yardley, who also read letters from young women of the county benefiting through such. Mrs. William C. Ryan expressed the hope that the individual clubs continue contributions to the Mothers' Assistance fund, the extra money helping to make Christmas more merry for beneficiaries. She also reported that dental work was made possible by the contributions, as well as the purchase of eye-glasses, milk, cod liver oil, etc.

The noon-tide box lunch was partaken of at the hostess club's headquarters. A food sale occurred during the noon-hour, as did also a scrap-book and year-book contest. Winners of the scrap-book contest were: Worthington and Newtown clubs, tie; Perkasie, 2nd; Southampton, 2nd. Year-book contest: Perkasie, 1st; Southampton, 2nd.

E. Howard Kester, superintendent of Bucks County Emergency Educational Council spoke for a few minutes during the afternoon on providing leisure time activities, applying these particularly to the youthful element, 16 to 24. Plans for operation of such at strategic points in the county were told of. He informed the women such a project offers to them an opportunity to widen the horizon of their activity, and asked them to assume obligations and materially assist when plans are complete.

Dr. Walter H. Mohr, of George School, used a map of Europe in connection with his address, speaking of the unsettled condition of that part of the world in particular. "The world is going through one of its great transition periods. One such was when Christianity was introduced, another was the period of the Renaissance, and now we have come to a period when we are again uncertain. We don't know just what is ahead of us, we are uncomfortable; and we don't like to live in a period when we don't know the next step. And again as in times gone by, men are beginning to search for something to cling to." Dr. Mohr then analyzed some of the ideals men have evolved for themselves, dwelling upon secular points of view particularly.

Nationalism, to which many are clinging, was talked of, as well as the failure of the idea in carrying Nationalism to such an extent. "Each little country in Europe is expressing its own national idea, and menaces are thus presented. We then see what happens in the 'worship of a false god', for to them Nationalism is a sort of religion worshipped by man." Turning his thoughts particularly to Fascism Dr. Mohr said that a Fascist has an idea that a man can't govern himself, while a Communist believes in dictatorship of a class. "And remember when you talk of Mussolini or Hitler you are talking of more than a government idea, you're talking about a social philosophy which is striving for supremacy." He then went into the difference of beliefs of all such ideas and ideals, referring to the dangers of economic Nationalism.

Turning attention to warfare the George School professor stated that "It is the willingness of certain people to profit by wars and corruptions who cause such. When the good people get together and stop wanting the things that make for war, and for selfishness, we won't have wars and disasters that result from selfishness. The responsibility is ours."

Members of the nominating committee appointed by the county president are: Mrs. Ryan, chairman; Mrs. Arthur F. Hagar; Mrs. William Tinsman, Lansdowne.

Vocal solos given by Mrs. Julian Hammond, Newtown, were: "Bleat Violet", "Out of My Soul's Great Sadness", and "Cradle Song."

A playlet prepared by members of the New Century Club in connection with the borough's anniversary program, was repeated as the concluding program number yesterday. This was a "Quitting Bee" and the participants were: Mrs. Walter H. Mohr, Mrs. Watson T. Hillborn, Mrs. M. B. Fretz, Mrs. Harry Darrah, Mrs. H. C. Case, Mrs. George Walton, Miss Sarah Packer; pianist, Mrs. William Kenderdine. Throughout the "bee" the women in conversational manner gave highlights in the history of Newtown.

The Spring meeting in April of 1935 will occur in Bristol.

SPORTS

ST. ANN'S ELEVEN TO PLAY LAMBERTVILLE TEAM HERE

With three straight wins tucked under their belts, St. Ann's A. A. grid-ders will face its stiffest opponent of the season tomorrow afternoon when the Lambertville Ramblers come here for an afternoon of entertainment.

The Purple and Gold eleven has defeated Hunting C. C. Hillside, and Conshohocken in rotation, after losing to Rockne A. A. in the opening skirmish of the season. However, the boys have received much consolation in the fact that the Rockne team has won the Philadelphia Tournament without a defeat. The "Saints" still hold on to the record that they have not had their goal line crossed in two seasons.

Two new players reported to Coach Seneca this week. They were: "Walt" Kornstedt and "Lefty" DiTanna. Kornstedt is an end, while DiTanna is trying out for a backfield post. "Jim" Blanche made his debut last Sunday against Conshohocken and made a fine showing. Blanche is expected to see more action in the Lambertville contest.

The Jersey team is being taken real serious by the locals. Last season the Red and White team gave the locals a real hard battle before dropping a 6-0 decision. Lambertville claimed that two of their stars were injured last season when they met the resident team, and with these two boys in condition they are out after the St. Ann's scalp.

The Bristol club is well aware of the fact that they must watch the two Faherty brothers on the Jerseyites' squad. These boys are both triple-threaters and once in the open are hard to bring down. St. Ann's had quite a bit of trouble blocking these boys last season and this year they have virtually the same club.

Coach Seneca was well pleased with the showing of his team last week, especially with the work of Farmer-hoy Galione and "Terp" Tershon. These boys were the whole show both offensively and defensively against the Conshohocken team and have earned a starting position with the team. Bornec at quarterback and Bono at half will round out the backfield.

The locals still have quite a few on the injured list and it is hoped that several of these will be back into harness. Joe Missera has recovered fully from his injury and is ready to start, and so is Ray Pico. Both of these boys are quarterbacks and are needed to give Bornec a rest. Tosti, Spadacino, Nicolls, and DiBlassio are still unable to play.

At a meeting of the athletic committee of the organization held this week, it was decided to sell tickets at the main box office only. The remainder of the field will be blocked and only the main entrance open for machines as well as spectators.

A new improvement to the field took place this week when a local businessman donated a scoreboard to the team. This scoreboard stands twelve feet square, seven feet from the ground, and will contain the score, period, down, and penalty. A member of the organization will operate the board.

The opening kick-off will take place at three o'clock sharp.

BUNNIES OF BRISTOL DOWN PEMBERTON, 26-0

By Jack Orr

Hitting a "breather" in their schedule the Bristol High Bunnies easily defeated their "set-up" rivals, Pemberton, to the tune of 26-0 yesterday on the latter's gridiron.

The Bristol club, resorting to straight football, amassed a total of 16 first downs to their opponents' one. The Cardinal and Gray advanced 212 yards by rushing while the home club gained only 14 yards by this method.

Most of the fray the Bunnies' second and third string men saw action, and at no time was the Bristol goal line threatened.

The blocking backs, "Joe" Conti and "Dom" Sagolla, came into the limelight as "Sags" scored twice and Conti went over once for a six pointer.

The visitors started fine by counting twice in the initial canto. On a march from midfield with every member of the Bristol backfield carrying the ball, the Bunnies made first down time and again with Conti supplying the punch for the initial score. The extra point was added.

After holding the Orange and Black on their own 20, the Bristol line went to work and again made fine holes for the Cardinal and Gray ball carriers.

On a drive from the midfield with linemen working with teamwork and precision the Bristol lads scored again. This time "Sags" Sagolla carried the ball for the count, Spencer place-kicked the extra point.

The second period was scoreless as the Pemberton club showed their only strong offensive department by completing a pass for their only first down of the contest. The Bristol pass defense seemed to click after this and the Orange and Black could not gain yardage through those heaves.

The second half was another romp for the proteges of Dougherty. The second team receiving their chance in varsity competition played great ball. Among these "Sam" Bragg and "Ed" McGinley, both covering the wing positions, were outstanding.

In the third period another drive with all the members of the Bristol ball carriers seeing action the Bunnies scored again. "Jim" Spencer taking his turn in the scoring spree, counted on a line buck.

The Orange and Black, whenever fortunate enough to gain possession of the pigskin would immediately throw forwards which were either knocked down or intercepted by the Bristol Club. "Ernie" Orazi, stellar still unable to play.

guard of the Cardinal and Gray, intercepted a pair of Pemberton tosses.

Putting an end to the scoring for the afternoon, Sagolla again took it across. Once more straight football was the essential factor on this touchdown. Line bucks were the main power for the Cardinal and Gray during the whole contest.

Another interesting feature of the fray was that the Bristol eleven was not forced to punt once during the game. The Pemberton Club were never in scoring position. The season's recapitulation to date for the Bunnies is: won, 3; lost, 1; tied, 1.

Today the Langhorne eleven will attempt to stop the three game winning streak of the Bristol club. The game will be played here.
